

My name is Arun Gurunath Dalavi. I have completed my education upto HSC from Kolhapur district. I have completed Mechanical Engineering from Zeal College of Engineering and Research, Pune with first class with distinction in year 2016. Currently I am working as a Design Engineer in EDAG Production Solutions, Vimanagar in Pune which is a German based MNC.

During this lockdown period I came to know that I am able to strike a balance between my professional and personal life. This lockdown period helped me to develop my personality as a good team member. Apart from office work in this period I have completed online courses for German language. I studied about how the share market functions and how to invest money in the shares. This lockdown period is helping everyone to grow and improve themselves as a stronger person. This is the best time I have ever enjoyed with my family after College life.

I'm from a middle class family. Hence, there have been struggles to complete education. But my father encouraged us to pursue higher education, even though the conditions at home were not so good. Now they feel on the top of the world to have a son like me.

I bagged my current job when I was selected through an On-Campus drive in the final year of engineering before completing my graduation. That was the most delightful moment in my life and for my family too. This was only possible only because of the support of the College staff. All the staff members of Zeal institute are quite supportive and helpful. They guided us very well for our professional skill development. Additionally, during academic years at the College I had participated in many Robotics competitions and won prizes too. The College staff and teachers were very supportive during this period.

Presently, I am working in EDAG Production Solutions. This is German based MNC. Because of this firm I got familiar with the German work culture. We are basically working in BIW fixture design. This organization helped me to develop myself professionally. In my 3 years of service experience, I have gained a lot of knowledge about designing and production processes. On the basis of this knowledge I am able to grow as a good team member and a better employee.

My future plan is to get more knowledge about my domain and be recognized for my work. I would suggest to every professional that everyone should learn to maintain perfect balance between work and personal life. This will help to grow us healthy and happy and do justice to both.

The key is in not spending time, but in investing it.

Name- Arun Dalavi

Designation - Design Engineer

Company- EDAG PRODUCTION SOLUTION (GERMAN MNC)

Batch - 2016

Branch - Mechanical